CITY COUNCIL ESTABLISHES NEW ADVISORY COMMISSION TO STUDY WATER, WASTEWATER SERVICES

GLENDALE, Ariz. – The City Council has established a new advisory commission to assist them in making important policy decisions relating to the city's water and wastewater services.

The seven-member Water Services Advisory Commission will research, study and discuss specific projects and issues relating to the city's water and wastewater infrastructure and operations, regional collaborations, new initiatives and water usage, revenue and expenditure trends.

The commission's first meeting will be held on Wednesday, Sept. 18.

The new commissioners are Ron Short (chair), Jonathan Liebman (vice chair), Ruth Faulls, Robert Gehl, Paul Romanek and Roger Schwierjohn. The seventh member of the commission is in the process of being selected.

Three of the new commissioners served on the year-long Glendale Ad-Hoc Citizen Task Force that was created to obtain feedback on issues related to the city's water and sewer services. Establishment of a new water services commission was one of the recommendations made by the task force.

Residents can request an application to serve on one of Glendale's citizen advisory groups or obtain more information by calling the Council Office at 623-930-2249. Information also is available online at www.glendaleaz.com/boardsandcommissions.
